KLAMATH SWATS BEER MEASURE

SO-CALLED BREWERS' AMENDMENT RECEIVED ONLY 775 VOTES TO 1948 AGAINST IT IN THIS COUNTY.

By a vote of almost two to one, Klamath county voters yesterday crushed the measure known as the brewers' amendment, or measure permitting manufacture and regulated sale of four per cent malt liquors. The exact vote, Midland and Crescent unreported, was 775 yes and 1245 no.

Only in Dairy precinct did the measure secure a majority affirmative vote. There it received 34 yes and 33 no. Every other precinct hit the measure a solar plexus blow.

Los Angeles Is Pivotal County

LOS ANGELES—With the presidential vote still in the balance, officials believe the California result will be unknown for several hours, owing to slow count here. Republicans predict Los Angeles county will swing the state, while democrats are just as sanguine.

WILSON CARRIES KLAMATH COUNTY

GETS MAJORITY OF 128 VOTES THROUGHOUT COUNTY, ALTHOUGH COUNTY IS NORMALLY FOR G. O. P.

Klamath county went for Woodrow Wilson. The vote was 1597 for re-election of the president to 1379 for Charles E. Hughes.

This county normally is republican and registration shows the proportion slightly large than two to one. It is believed by many that not a few voters of both parties after voting for Wilson followed out their beginning and supported democratic candidates for county offices. This is taken in some circles as an explanation for the success of so many democratic nominees.

Early Bulletins

NEW YORK—An early estimate of Hughes' electoral votes without Ohio placed at 277—more than necessary for a majority. Hughes carried 21 states.

Statue of Liberty Lighted After Thirty Years

Thirty years after the Statue of Liberty was set up in New York harbor as a beacon light for all the world, it is to be properly lighted at night. After December 2 incoming ships from Europe may see the figure of Liberty and be welcomed. The electrical industries of the nation have raised a fund to install lighting fixtures. Those who wish yet to contribute must do so quickly before the campaign is closed. Congress has made an appropriation for the maintenance of the light. This photograph showing Liberty lighted indicates how she will look after December 2. That evening President Wilson and many public officials will witness the ceremony of the first lighting.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it, and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.—Adv.

BIRTH OF NATION TO APPEAR HERE

WILL SHOW IN KLAMATH FALLS NOVEMBER 24-25—IS DEPICTION OF LIFE IN THE SOUTH AND NEGROES.

The slave-trade in America and slavery as it existed prior to the war are exemplified in "The Birth of a Nation," D. W. Griffith's pictorial and musical elaboration of Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman" and "The Leopard's Spots," to be shown at the opera house November 24 and 25.

This phase of political conditions is traced strikingly from the importation of the first slaves to the troubles that grew out of their freedom and consequent enfranchisement and subsequent tribulations of the South under carpet-bag rule.

As a sort of prologue to the drama the arrival of the first "cargo" of slaves is presented with historic fidelity. From this the scene changes to ante-bellum days, depicting the condition of the negro in the South at that time. Then comes the turmoil of war, and, finally, the rule of black over white with a mulatto lieutenant-governor in the capital of South Carolina and the Ku Klux Klan riding through the country-side to rescue their women and preserve their traditions.

Lincoln signing the emancipation proclamation is a favorite among the 5000-odd scenes of the mighty spectacle.

Music lovers are as pleased with this presentation as they would be over a production of grand opera, as its score of martial music, patriotic airs and folk songs is played by a symphony orchestra, especially trained and carried for this purpose.

A Noted North Carolina Beauty

Mrs. Samuel Taylor Dorsett, daughter of a North Carolina mountaineer farmer, is the perfect model for a number of Junoesque figures which have brought considerable fame to the sculptors who made them. Her figure, an inch less than six feet tall, and perfectly proportioned, was reproduced by Paul Bartlett in the central figure of the new house of representatives pediment. The figure of Panama, on the diplomas of award bestowed by the Panama Pacific exposition, is hers. She appears in the mural paintings of S. Y. Turner in the state capitol at Madison, Wis., and it was through the reproduction of her figure that the late Max Weyl, the landscape painter, intended to prove his versatility when death stopped his work. Mrs. Dorsett was reared on one of the sides of Mt. Mitchell, in the "sapphire country" and is one of a family of giants. Much of her life has been spent in the open.

Comfort is the first consideration in shoes. Shoes are articles of dress—there is a pleasure in wearing well-appearing shoes which cannot be gauged by dollars and cents. Shoe-value is gauged by requirements: good looks are the particular value of a dress shoe, for instance. Fineness of material and making in shoes is a legitimate and practical value. The comparison of dress shoes with shoes of sturdier texture is parallel to that of silk with cotton. Always to give the most definite information possible as to the properties of the various leathers. Always to advise a customer frankly as to the shoes he needs, both as to leather and last. Always to serve without weariness or laxity to the utmost of our ability.

WM. FARNUM

AT STAR TONIGHT

"Battle of Hearts," starring the talented actor William Farnum, is the first filmed story of sea life presented by William Fox, the maker of vital feature films. In this picture, just released, Mr. Farnum acts the part of a noble sailor character, brave and capable of great self-sacrifice. He is in love with a sea captain's daughter, a part taken by Eida Furry, his new leading woman, but through the plots of the villain of the story the girl does not realize the capacity of his love until the end of the play.

Incidental to the story, which was enacted on Catalina Island, off the California coast, there is a shipwreck in which both Mr. Farnum and Miss Furry figure. The excitement as produced on those viewing the picture is no less than that of the actors, who were in real personal danger during the making of this part. The heroine's other lover becomes a smuggler of the coast, and the plot includes thrilling adventures of the male star with the seacoast outlaws on the rocky cliffs of Catalina. The scenes of the little fishing village are most accurately portrayed.

The village was built for the purpose by Director Oscar C. Apfel, and the fishermen and fisherwomen are shown true to type. The picture play has a happy ending, the wronged seaman finally winning his first love and the villain being properly cast out from their lives.
